CAPTURE OF NIKOLAEV

Red Army Forces Reported in Rumania

NIKOLAEV, the last big German barrier protecting the great Black Sea port of Odessa, was captured yesterday by General Malinovsky's Third Ukrainian Army.

This important victory at the eastern extremity of the South Russian front was announced in an Order of the Day from Marshal Stalin, who ordered a salute of twenty salvoes from 224 of Moscow's guns to hail the recapture of the city after 2½ years' German occupation.

As Malinovsky's army thus cleared the way for the 75 miles' coastal drive on Odessa, German reports—so far unconfirmed from Soviet sources—indicated that Red Army forces had crossed Rumania's Pruth River border and are operating near the industrial town and rail centre of Jassy.

Marshal Stalin's Order of the Day stated:—

"Troops of the Third Ukrainian Front to-day, March 28th, after stiff fighting, carried by assault the town of Nikolaev, a large industrial centre and important railway junction. Nikolaev is one of the largest ports on the Black Sea, and was an important German strong-point at the mouth of the southern Bug."

The Soviet communiqué, issued later, said:—

"During March 28th troops of the First Ukrainian Front captured the town of Gvozdets (12 miles north-east of Kolomea, in Galicia).

"Our troops also captured a district centre of the Cernauti region, Tysmienica (65 miles north-west of Cernauti and six miles south-east of Stanislav). They also took a district centre of the Kamenets-Podolsk region, and over 70 other inhabited localities.

"Our troops, advancing to the west of Mogilev-Podolsk, between the Dniester and the Pruth, occupied Chelmenti (30 miles east of Cernauti).

"South and east of Balti our troops occupied over 30 inhabited localities. They captured the railway junction of Slobodka, forced the southern Bug and took Domanovka, a district centre of the Odessa region."

Slobodka (says Reuter) is 18 miles north-east of the Dniester crossing of Rybnitsa, and 80 miles south-east of Mogilev-Podolsk. Domanovka is 10 miles west of the lower Bug and 80 miles north of Odessa. The capture of Chelmenti brings the Russians to a commanding position at the neck of the Proskurov "sack."

Referring to the capture of Nikolaev, Reuter says that when the Germans entered it on August 17th, 1941, they found its dockyards and shipbuilding installations, together with what had been Europe's biggest grain elevator, nothing but scorched ruins. Its restoration to Russian hands means that 100,000 Germans still occupying Odessa and the flat lands north of the city between the Dniester and the Bug are in danger of being trapped.

Reuter's special correspondent in Moscow states:—Forces of Marshal Zhukov's left wing are already fighting in the foothills of the Carpathians. His spearheads, moving rapidly towards the headwaters of the Pruth, already straddle one road controlling the way through a Carpathian pass into the Hungarian plain.

At Gorodenko, inside Bukovina, they are on the railway running up into the mountains along the Pruth Valley, between 5,500 ft. peaks, and down to Satu Mare, in the Tisa river valley, on the Hungarian side.

Between the Dniester and the Pruth the armies of Zhukov and Koniev are now rapidly linking.

Only 15 miles separates Zhukov's men—who, after capturing Sadagura, are but two miles from the northern outskirts of Cernauti—from Koniev's forces pushing west to join them from Novo Selits.

Koniev's army, in the two days since it reached the Pruth, has extended its hold to an 80-mile stretch of the river's east bank.

A Soviet attack on Kolomea, 45 miles north-west of Cernauti, and the first Galician town mentioned by the Germans, was mentioned by the German commentator, von Hammer, last night.

Von Hammer also stated: "A Soviet attempt to storm the town of Jassy has been broken by determined German and Rumanian resistance."

This report, if confirmed, means that the Russians have crossed the Pruth into Rumania. (The Associated Press quoted a German radio report, which said that Soviet infantry units which crossed the Pruth were wiped out immediately.)

If the German report that the Russians are fighting on the west bank of the Pruth is correct, it means that the Red Army has crossed into Rumania twenty-six years and one day after Rumanian troops crossed the river during the Great War and occupied Russian Bessarabia. It was on March 27th, 1918, that the Rumanians marched into Bessarabia. Bessarabia, together with Northern Bukovina, was recovered by the Soviet Union at the end of June, 1940, when the Rumanian Government accepted an ultimatum for the cession of these territories. The Soviet forces who took over from the Rumanians were led by Marshal Timoshenko, himself a Bessarabian.

Von Hammer said:—"In the area of Kolomea two Russian cavalry columns were wiped out and a new Soviet attempt to carry the town by tank assault was foiled. The Russians are everywhere bringing up more and more reserves. Motorised infantry and tank units are flowing to the front from deep in the rear, and pressure is mounting, particularly between the Dniester and the Pruth."

A late German High Command broadcast last night asserted:—"At no point have the German forces lost contact with each other. However, the Russians have advanced from the Bug to the Pruth and into Eastern Galicia, and are pressing back our front."

Martin Hallensleben, a military commentator of the German News Agency, said last night:—"The Russians are throwing in all they have got in the south in a bid to cut off the big German retreat and to encircle our eastern flank. In face of such large-scale activities by an enemy superior in numbers, it is impossible to avoid critical situations. Though local difficulties often set unexpected problems, the situation on the whole is under control, and is being mastered by the grand strategic plan of the German defence." —(Reuter.)

Newspaper Ban

ANOTHER move designed to prevent leakage of vital information as second front "zero" hour approaches was made known last night in London. It is a ban on the export of newspapers, excepting morning papers, by certain parts, including Ireland.

New Ministries Bill at Stormont

At Stormont yesterday, the Northern Ireland Ministries Bill was formally read a first time.

A memorandum, signed by Sir Basil Brooke, explained that the bill is for the establishment of a Ministry of Health and Local Government for the administration of public health, housing, and local government; the abolition of the Ministry of Public Security, and the transfer of its functions to the Ministry of Home Affairs, which is to be styled the Ministry of Home Affairs and Security.

These provisions will operate from such day, in each case, as the Governor may, by Order in Council, appoint. The Government is at present considering whether any further redistribution of functions as between various departments is required in view of the insecurity of the future.

"Sovereign Equality After War"—Eden

Mr. Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary, said yesterday that, while all States, from "huge entities to very small communities," would have sovereign equality after the war, the main responsibility for preserving peace must lie with the Great Powers. "When we come to deciding action which only certain States, by their military power, are in a position to take, we cannot simply count heads." He insisted, however, that this would not mean dictatorship of the Great Powers, among whom he hoped France would again take her place "without long delay."

Mr. Eden, who was addressing the conference in London of the Free Church Federal Council, emphasised that the Moscow and Teheran conferences did not contemplate "any kind of super State." He added:—"The philosophy of the naked struggle for existence was the declared philosophy of Hitler."

Tea Ration For April

The existing tea rations for domestic consumers, catering establishments and institutions will be continued for the month of April, 1944.

As from Saturday the page in the ration book applicable to tea will be page 22, lettered R. To obtain the ration of tea as from that date, it will be necessary for all householders to register again for tea.

Bombs Dropped On Outskirts Of Rome

THE fighting in Italy was yesterday restricted to artillery fire and patrol encounters. On the Anzio beachhead General von Mackensen's forces are more active, but there is as yet little sign of the resumption of the major combat, a Reuter message stated last night. The German commander is retaining his general defensive attitude.

In Cassino hotels which were already ruined by air bombing are being further reduced by concentrated gunfire. Allied artillery is preventing tanks "in residence" from leaving their quarters. A large German ammunition dump was set ablaze.

Medium and fighter bombers attacked German targets all the way from the main Fifth Army front to Florence; 1,400 Allied sorties were observed, as against 55 of the Luftwaffe.

Rail installations in the north-eastern outskirts of Rome were also bombed. Rome had four alerts yesterday, according to Paris radio.

Mr. Churchill, answering a question on the Cassino operations, in the British Commons yesterday, said: "I certainly have not concealed my disappointment that progress has not been quicker." He did not propose to make a detailed statement, he added.

TRAVEL BAN: NO ACTION BY MR. DE VALERA

MR. W. NORTON (Lab.) asked the Minister for External Affairs in the Dail yesterday whether he would make representations to the British Government to ensure that the imposition of a ban on Irish citizens from returning to Ireland would not operate to make such citizens liable to military service in Great Britain under legislation at present operating in Great Britain.

Mr. DE VALERA replied—"I am informed that the new travel restrictions do not in any way affect the position of our workers in Great Britain as regards liability to military service."

To another question by Mr. Norton, Mr. DE VALERA said: "I know that it is a grave hardship on our citizens working in Great Britain not to be able to spend their holidays in this country and to revisit their families and homes. If there were any action which I could appropriately take to change that position I would naturally do so. Having regard, however, to the terms of the official announcements made on behalf of the British Government, I feel that for us to ask the British authorities to grant a relaxation of the new restrictions in favour of our workers or of any other class of travellers would merely place this Government in a false position without achieving any useful result. I can only refer the deputy, therefore, to the statements made in London indicating that the present restrictions are not likely to be of more than temporary duration."

Mr. DE VALERA told Mr. Oliver Flanagan (Ind.) that the issue of passports to applicants whose destination was Great Britain had been suspended on January 21, 1942. From January 1 to January 20, 1942, 30 passports were issued to people for the purpose of travelling to Great Britain. The total number of travel permits issued to persons for the purpose of travelling to Great Britain and the Six Counties was 66,208 in 1942, 61,758 in 1943, and 7,238 in January and February, 1944. Separate figures for the total number of travel permits issued to persons travelling to Great Britain as distinct from the Six Counties were not available in respect of the periods from 1942 to the present year.

Dominions' Attitude To American Note

SEVERAL questions relating to Eire were answered in the British House of Commons yesterday, including the position of Irish workers in Britain in so far as income tax liability was concerned. The Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs (Mr. Anthony Eden) was asked by Mr. Beattie (Lab., Belfast) if, having supported the United States demand for the removal of the German and Japanese representatives in Eire, he would now make a similar request to the Soviet Government for the removal of the Japanese Minister in Moscow, and also to Portugal, Spain, Turkey, Sweden, Switzerland and all other countries where there are Axis Ministers in residence.

Mr. Eden, in a written reply, said: No, sir. The considerations which applied in the case of Eire do not apply in the case of the other countries mentioned.

Mr. Beattie asked the Prime Minister whether the other members of the British Commonwealth of Nations were consulted prior to the action of the United States Government in presenting demands to the Government of Eire, which is still regarded as a member of the Commonwealth, and whether he would now give an assurance that in future no outside Power, however friendly, would be permitted to take such action without reference to the views of the other members of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

Mr. Churchill, in a written reply, said: It is clear, from the public statements which have been made on behalf of British Commonwealth Governments, that they are in full agreement with the United States approach in this matter.

Lord Fermoy (C., King's Lynn) asked the Chancellor of the Exchequer whether his attention had been called to the discontent evinced among Norfolk farm labourers owing to the fact that Irish farm labourers did not have income tax deducted under the "pay as you earn" scheme until they had worked in a position for six months, thus enabling them to avoid payment, and what steps he was taking to remove the grievance.

Sir John Anderson, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in a written reply, stated: "Tax is deductable under 'pay as you earn' from all wages and salaries. This applies to Irish farm labourers in this country as well as to other wage earners."

Mr. D. Campbell (C., Antrim) asked the Chancellor of the Exchequer whether officers of the British forces, normally resident in Eire, paid income tax in Eire or in the United Kingdom, and at what rate.

Sir John Anderson replied that the liability to tax was governed by the double taxation agreement between Britain and Eire, to which effect was given by the Finance Act, 1926, and by the wartime concession regarding individuals who come from the Dominions to join the forces in Britain.

Professor Savory (C., Belfast University)—Is he aware that British officers resident in the Treaty ports before the cession of those ports to Eire have been asked to pay arrears of income tax to Eire, though they have already paid income tax to the United Kingdom and Northern Ireland?

Sir John Anderson—I shall communicate with my friend on that.

SHIPPING

Sir John Mellor (C., Tamworth) asked the Parliamentary Secretary of the Ministry of War Transport why the 19 coasting vessels in the Eire register referred to in the minutes of evidence taken before the Committee of Public Accounts were covered by the Ministry's war risks insurance scheme for the carriage of goods consigned from one Eire port to another Eire port, and how the premium compared with such market rates as were available.

Mr. Noel-Baker, in a written reply, said: The war risks' insurance in approved mutual war risks associations with Government re-insurance of a part of the liability is available on a common basis for all ships registered in countries of the British Commonwealth. I am not aware that any market rate was quoted for ships trading between Eire ports, or that any ship was insured against war risks in the open market for that trade.

Fire Prevention Blocks Scheme

Talks concerning the position under the new Fire Prevention Order of employees already in emergency services are proceeding. Some Dublin employers with workers in existing organisations hold that they should be released for training with the new service. Paid fire-watching will be discouraged, except when every appeal for volunteers fails. Girls as well as men will be trained. The formation of Dublin's 965 block committees is going ahead, and recruitment and training of personnel will begin soon. Readiness to go into action within an hour's notice is the aim.

Even if most of the property owners in a block stand aloof, the authorities will tell the committee to go ahead, and will then bring compulsory powers into operation against the slackers. In most cases the blocks will apportion the expense of purchasing equipment on a poor law valuation basis. The A.R.P. compensation scheme will cover personnel.

Schooner Cymric Overdue

—CREW OF ELEVEN

THE 340-ton auxiliary three-masted sailing vessel, Cymric (Messrs. Betson and Co., Ltd., Dublin) is feared to have been lost with her crew of eleven. The Cymric left Ardrossan on February 23rd with a cargo of 300 tons of coal for Lisbon, and the vessel was to have brought back a wheat cargo to Dublin. Last night there was no news of the vessel, which is now long overdue at Lisbon.

During the last few days Messrs. Betson's office at Eden quay has received continuous telephone messages from relatives of the crew anxiously inquiring for news.

Since the Cymric took a different route on this trip, it would be difficult to say exactly how long the vessel is overdue, Mr. Betson told an Irish Times reporter last night. It is estimated that, making allowances for the new route, she should have arrived between a fortnight and eighteen days ago. The Cymric has not yet been posted as lost at Lloyds.

Reconditioned a year ago, the Cymric was damaged in a collision during her first voyage.

The master is Christopher Cassidy, a native of Athboy, Co. Meath, of 68 Monkstown road, Dublin, and the members of the crew are: Bernard Kiernan, born in Liverpool of Irish parents, 21 St. Malachi's Villas, Dundalk (mate); Peter Joseph Sever, Quay street, Skerries, Co. Dublin (bosun); Michael Tierney, 14 White Rock View, Wexford (chief engineer); Kevin Furlong, 5 Emmet Place, Wexford (second engineer); Cecil Frank McConnell, Clonakea road, Dublin (A.B.); James Crosbie, 3 The Faythe, Wexford (A.B.); James Brennan, 7 Trinity place, Wexford (A.B.); William O'Rourke, 36 Parnell street, Wexford (A.B.); Philip Joseph Bergin, 8 Gibson street, Wexford (ordinary seaman); Michael Christopher Ryan, a native of Dungarvan, 62 Amiens street, Dublin (cook).

Denials of Irish Anti-Semitism

The following statement has appeared in the American Press in reply to an accusation made in New York that there is a Fascist anti-Semitic movement in Ireland:—

"The Jewish Representative Council of Eire repudiate as false, irresponsible and mischievous any suggestion that the Government of this country is anti-Semitic or that there is any organised anti-Semitic movement in Eire. The Jewish community live, and have always lived, on terms of closest friendship with their fellow-Irish citizens. Freedom to practise their religion is specifically guaranteed in the Irish Constitution. No Irish Government has ever discriminated between Jew and non-Jew."

The statement is signed by Messrs. Edwin Solomons, M.A., President; Leonard Abrahamson, M.D., F.R.C.P.I., Vice-President; Joshua Baker, M.A., LL.B., Ph.D.; Morris Ellis, Maurice Mirrelson, Jacob Slotover, Charles Spiro, Jacob Jaffey, Ernest Newman, B.A., LL.B.; Laurence Elyan, Karl Feldman, M. Elliman, Arthur Newman, P.C., and Herman Good, LL.B., Hon. Secretary.

Another statement, signed by Mr. Robert Briscoe, T.D., was also published as follows:—"As a member of the Irish Parliament and a practising adherent of the Jewish faith, who has represented for 17 years a Dublin constituency ninety-seven per cent. Roman Catholic, I deny emphatically that the people of Ireland or the present or any Government of Ireland are, or have ever been, anti-Semitic. This statement is confirmed by the prompt repudiation of the calumny by the Jewish Representative Council of Eire, composed of distinguished Irish citizens representing the entire Jewish community of Eire. I should like to add that the Jewish community in Eire are taking their full share in the defence and auxiliary defence forces of the country and that they whole-heartedly support the Government's policy of neutrality."

Northern Ban on Residence Permits

Mr. W. Lowry, Northern Minister of Home Affairs, stated at Stormont yesterday that 1,470 natives of Eire have been refused renewal of residence permits in Northern Ireland in the past six months. So far as he was aware, none of these people came to Northern Ireland for essential war work which would otherwise not have been performed. The issue of permits was governed solely by the nature of the employment and whether the presence of the people was essential for the furtherance of the war effort.

Mr. Beattie (Socialist, Pottinger) asked what percentage of the total number of persons refused residence permits were not employed in Northern Ireland on work of national importance.

Mr. Lowry said that he could not give the exact percentage, but a good many people who had been engaged in such employment were not now employed. He was considering measures to deal with them.

Defeat of British Government

THE British Government were defeated in the House of Commons last night by one vote, on an amendment, moved by Mrs. Cazalet Keir, to the Education Bill, providing for equal pay for equal work in the teaching profession.

The amendment was resisted by Mr. Butler, President of the Board of Education, but, in the Division Lobbies, 117 members voted for it and 116 against.

The Government will not resign, following its first defeat, writes E. P. Stacpoole, P.A. Lobby Correspondent. The surprise vote against the Government came after a stormy debate. Immediately the figures were announced members jumped up to express the hope that the vote would not be regarded as one against the Minister or the bill.

There was a tense atmosphere in the House, and, on the Government's behalf, Mr. Eden, leader of the House, accepted a motion by Mr. Greenwood (Lab., Wakefield) that the Government should report progress. He would give no undertaking, but promised that the Government would consider the result of the vote and report at the earliest possible moment.

A late message from the Press Association last night stated the Minister of Education, who was obviously deeply upset when his appeals to the House failed and the vote went against him, may, some fear, decide to resign.

French Airfields Attacked

A report from United States Strategic Air Forces in Europe last night stated:—"B 17 Flying Fortresses bombed four aerodromes in France to-day. The medium mixed force encountered slight A.A. fire, but no fighter opposition.

"The targets, which were attacked with satisfactory results, were the training stations at Dijon and Chartres, a heavy bomber operational base at Chateaudun and Champagne airfield, which has extensive repair facilities at Rheims.

"The medium forces of escorting Thunderbolts, Lightnings and Mustangs attacked planes on the ground, destroying thirty, including many bombers, and damaging more than a score. Two of our bombers and three fighters are missing."

United States heavy bombers destroyed four German fighters in air battles while attacking German airfields in France on Monday. Ten of the strong fighter escort were lost, five previously reported as missing, having been found safe, says a U.S. report last night.

BRISTOL HIT

A British Air Ministry and Ministry of Home Security report last night stated that during daylight yesterday there was nothing to report. It is now known, it is said, that three more German aircraft were destroyed in raids on Great Britain on Monday night, making a total of eleven destroyed. Twelve people were killed, some of them women, and 16 seriously injured, when an anti-aircraft shell crashed through the roof of a building in Wales.

A German report said that a sharp attack was made on Bristol on Monday night. The attack lasted half an hour. There were some sharp encounters with night fighters.

Easter Processions Banned.—Mr. W. Lowry, Northern Ireland Minister of Home Affairs, has issued an Order banning meetings and processions commemorating the Easter Rising. The ban will be in force between April 6th and 12th.

Over 20,000 Idle in Belfast

At Stormont yesterday, the Minister of Labour, Mr. W. Grant, announced that he intended to make a full statement on the strike situation in the House on to-morrow.

More men affected by the strike were paid off yesterday, and the total number of men now idle in the industries concerned is over 20,000.

DRASTIC CUTS IN ELECTRICITY

Industry and Transport Affected

DRASTIC restrictions upon the use of electrical current will be introduced on Saturday next. Industrial concerns, tramway and Drumm train services, hotels, restaurants, institutions and domestic consumers will be affected by the following cuts, announced last night by the Electricity Supply Board:—

Motive power ... ... 10 per cent.
Traction ... ... 33⅓ per cent.
Cooking ... ... 15 per cent.
All other purposes, except public lighting 50 per cent.

The foregoing restrictions, which are due to the continued critical position of electricity supply, are to be made on the consumption in the corresponding period of 1941—that is, on the figures furnished to consumers on their ration cards. Consumers who have mislaid their cards can have a copy on application to their District Office of the E.S.B.

As regards public lighting, the question of exercising further economy is left to the public authorities responsible for this service.

The penalty for failure to comply with the restrictions is disconnection of supply.

The Board desires to express its appreciation of the excellent response to the recent requests for economy, and regrets that the continued disimprovement in conditions of supply make these new restrictions necessary.

The reduction in motive power consumption will affect industry, as it involves a 10% restriction in supply for electric motors.

The 33⅓% reduction in electricity supply for traction will involve a restriction in the Dublin tramway service and in the Drumm train service.

The restriction in supply for cooking will affect not only domestic consumers, but hotels, restaurants, and institutions where electric cookers are in use.

While the Transport Company has supplies yet to decide how it will meet the cut, it is expected that a tightening in the late service will be the first step. This would affect the Dalkey and Blackrock passengers, who can travel home as late as 11.45 and 12.15. Restrictions on the lines to Terenure, Dartry, Dun Laoghaire and Howth Hill will be decided at a meeting in a day or two.

Anticipating some such order, leading Dublin hotel proprietors met a short time ago and decided on the immediate introduction of a number of restrictions, which, in the case of one hotel, means a consumption cut of one-third. It has shed hundreds of lights from its walls and corridors, and heating has been taken away from all its bedrooms. Guests are not allowed to descend by lift.

One flour miller, who says he has been curtailing power as much as possible, is convinced that the cut will mean less output and more unemployment.

Gas Users Warned

The Dublin Gas Company warns the public that the present periods for supplies cannot be maintained if consumption continues to increase. In the last three weeks 86 people who used gas during the "off" hours were cut off from further supplies.

IRISH FARMERS MUST EXPORT MORE

WHEN the debate on the estimate for the Department of Agriculture was resumed yesterday in the Dail, Mr. LARKIN (sen.) said that the Minister should make the Dublin City Manager grow crops on St. Anne's estate, and he should put it up to the 21 golf clubs in the county that ten clubs should act as hosts to the others and allow oats and potatoes to be grown on the other eleven links. People with large lawns should also be made to grow crops on them.

General S. MacEOIN (F.G.) said that in 1929, when they had good agricultural exports, with plenty of eggs, butter and other produce, the cost of salaries was £111,687. To-day, when there was reduced production, salaries for the Department had increased to £216,365. Control and yet more control had given them only a decrease in agriculture. More money should be spent on agricultural colleges and domestic economy schools instead of increasing staffs of inspectors.

SUICIDAL POLICY

Mr. J. M. DILLON (Ind.) said that the more he heard of planning the more suspicious he became. Generally planning in agriculture meant a horde of inspectors descending on the farmers. The Government had finished dairying and had finished butter. Was it proposed to let them loose on any other aspect? Since the tariffs were imposed on the raw materials of agriculture the prices of these materials had gone up steadily. The growing of wheat in peace-time, with the markets of the world open to us, was suicidal, and had almost brought the country to a position where they could not grow enough when the war came.

The Minister still refused to take the control off barley, and was making a present of £1,000,000 to the brewers every year. Brewers were willing and able to pay more if the Government permitted to do so. He advocated the use of the Friesian cow for the dairying districts, the Hereford for the beef districts and the Shorthorn for mixed farming in the congested districts. The farmers were able to carry the Fianna Fail Government for twelve years, and they would be able to carry anything after that. That fact gave him hope for the future.

He welcomed the Minister's proposal to extend their veterinary services. He would like to see the most distinguished men in veterinary science brought to our Veterinary College, no matter where they came from. It was extraordinary that they had no agricultural schools to which boys who desired could go, and he suggested that they should set up at least one agricultural school in every diocese in the country.

Mr. P. BROWNE (F.G.) advocated the quarterly fixing of egg prices, and said that fear of falling returns prevented farmers from keeping many fowl. Pig prices also should be fixed at a minimum of £7 per live cwt., and some control of cattle prices ought to be introduced.

Mr. J. BLOWICK (C.N.T.) said that the Department had failed in the matter of winter wheat. Experience proved that winter wheat would not germinate in a temperature below 45 degrees Fahrenheit. Farmers east of the Shannon might get that temperature, but not those in Mayo.

A robber, burglar and a thief are more welcome in a bank than a farmer, according to Mr. OLIVER FLANAGAN (Ind.). The majority of farmers were still in debt, and the Government had done nothing to take them out of debt. The farmers were definitely doing their duty now.

Mr. DAVIN (Lab.) said that the farmers in his part of the country were suffering from shortage of working capital. He would like to know why the banks could lend money to a foreign Power at 2½ per cent. to fight a war on the continent of Europe while the Agricultural Credit Corporation will not give the necessary facilities to farmers here at less than double that rate.

Progress was reported, and the Dail adjourned till 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Position of The Soccer Referee

THE Council of the F.A.I. and the Management Committee of the League of Ireland apparently are perturbed about the referee position, particularly in the South; the League, perhaps, not so much as the governing body. Last week Major T. Gunn, Mr. C. Liddy and Mr. J. Wickham (secretary), who had been on a mission to Cork, told the League what they had discovered. They are pretty frank about it.

They are not satisfied with the standard of refereeing in Munster; nor were they in favour of one system of refereeing for League matches and a different one for F.A.I. games. In matches under the jurisdiction of the Council the law which lays it down that the linesman "shall also assist the referee to control the game in accordance with the laws" is enforced. The League, for some reason of its own, has decreed directly the opposite.

Major Gunn and Mr. Wickham, acting on behalf of the Council, want the laws of the game enforced; the League do not. The custom in most disputes of the kind is to refer the case to the Club Committees. That was done in this instance, and, needless to say, the Committees will back up their delegates to the League, so that we probably have heard the last of it, so far as the League is concerned.

Major Gunn disclosed one of the reasons why the Cork referees and linesmen do not give satisfaction to the Dublin clubs.

SOUTHERN REFEREES

Evidently some Southern referees act on the policy that it is wise not to fall out with one's bread and butter. But are they the only ones who adopt that policy and stick steadfastly to it? Of course not. Even a Dublin referee is not on safe ground should he conscientiously discharge his duty and his responsibilities to the game. Let such a referee enforce the laws, particularly in the matter of penalty kicks or rough and dangerous play, and he knows what will happen when his name again is mentioned for an important match.

What chance has a good referee under such conditions? Again, what inducement is there for a man to take up refereeing and work his hardest to please clubs and the people who keep th game alive? £1 for a match played in the Phoenix Park is 5/-. What does he receive for refereeing a match the gate receipts from which run into £900 or £500? How is one to account for the change-over from the time when, for all League and Cup games, the pick of the English and Scottish referees were engaged Saturday after Saturday? Then the clubs did not grumble at having to pay out weekly a few extra pounds for the referee; now it is a matter of a few shillings for the best of ours, some of whom are as competent as the best we then had from among the cross-Channel officials.

We have a Referees' Association—in name. What are its powers? They are strictly limited; in fact, that Association is, in vital matters, bossed by Council and League. It is optional for a referee to become a member of the Association. Provided he pleases the Association and the League—and otherwise the clubs—he need not be a member of any Association; he can snap his fingers at the Referees' Association.

The position of the referee obviously is being almost completely ignored by the clubs, despite the fact that it is absolutely essential to the well-being of the game that the man who controls the match should be thoroughly versed in the laws of the game, fearless in the discharge of his duties, and independent of all club influences.

ON DOWN GRADE.

That soccer is on the down grade in Eire admits of no doubt. Its popularity is, however, unquestioned, but was it not clear last Saturday at Dalymount Park that the football public is getting restless and beginning to realise that something is wrong? If that feeling should spread—and it easily could—and gate receipts flop as a result of the game being transformed into a business organisation, instead of being developed on sporting lines, if this "pooling" and "two-legged" system is going to be imposed on the football public much longer, it may be just too bad for those responsible for what may happen.

REPORT FOR G.A.A. CONGRESS

By PAT'O.

With total assets of £107,500, of which the bulk is invested in grounds and equipment, the G.A.A. have a very successful year to report to their Easter Congress in Dublin. The loan for the erection of the Cusack stand was reduced by £5,000 during a year which showed an excess of income over expenditure amounting to £9,827, as against £3,232 in the previous year. The drawn game and replay between Roscommon and Cavan brought in £9,000 in round figures, but the annual expenditure, mainly in travelling and incidental team expenses, was £4,400 up on 1942.

The total number of clubs affiliated is 1,807—Leinster 636, Munster 561, Connaught 301, Ulster 285, Britain 24. There is a bank deposit of £4,000; moneys expended in Croke Park are set down at £95,365.

Mr. Padraig O'Keeffe, General Secretary, whose monthly notes in this paper regretted had a very busy year; the secretary's report covers many important fields of activity—finance, accident schemes, championships, cup competitions, college games, organisation, and playing fields. Many other matters usually covered by Mr. O'Keeffe's monthly notes are included in the President's (Mr. Seamus Gardiner) address to be read at Congress—Easter Sunday, City Hall, Dublin—where 39 motions from the counties are listed for discussion.

There is little contentious matter in these motions. A suggestion from Cavan is that the foreign games rules be revised every three years as from 1945. If the motion is passed by Congress it means that the ban rules will come up for discussion on Sunday next.

There is a widespread feeling in the rank and file of playing members that these rules must be either abolished or strictly administered. Several counties call for the revival of minor championships (and national) leagues—abandoned during transport emergencies. Trophies are suggested for players that reach the all-Ireland finals; extra time is suggested for all drawn games, and Roscommon calls on the Board of Education to provide one acre of playing ground for each school.

An official clock on display at all major games, and a panel of approved referees are called for by Cavan.

A wider development of handball is suggested by Mr. Martin O'Neill's annual report; an inventory of all handball courts is to be examined, and hard-balls are to be provided for schoolboys.

DRAW IN SCHOOLS' HOCKEY FINAL

ST. COLUMBA'S ... 1 MOUNTJOY ... 1

On an iron-hard pitch at Londonbridge road yesterday St. Columba's and Mountjoy failed to decide the destination of the Leinster Senior Schools' Hockey Cup at the first attempt, each side scoring a goal in the course of the first seventy minutes, and extra time bringing no change in the situation. The replay will take place to-day at 4.45 on the same ground.

With the ball travelling so fast, neither team could manage much combination in attack; but the halves and backs were remarkably good in stopping the ball from the reverse stick, and they generally held the opposing forwards in check. Considering the fact that St. Columba's were without their centre-half and key-player, Edgill, they did extremely well. Packham, the deputy centre-half, worked hard, and Harvey and Payne were steady backs. The Mountjoy defence was also reliable, and in Rose and Byrne they had the two best forwards on the field.

Ten minutes after the start Somerville-Large slipped through to put St. Columba's ahead, and five minutes from the interval Rafter equalised from a penalty corner. Teams:—

St. Columba's—H. Gahan; O. Harvey, J. Payne; M. Austin, W. L. Packham, G. Brewitt; M. Fitzgerald, P. Somerville-Large, J. Jameson, Knighton-Smith, J. Bradshaw.

Mountjoy—G. Lett; W. Whyte, E. J. Wilkie; S. Brodin, C. Roberts, H. Griffin; F. Ryan, R. Rafter, G. Rowe, J. Eades, R. Kingston.

Schools' Minor Cup.—Final—Kingstown 2 (R. Thursby), Kilkenny 0.

LEINSTER SCHOOLS' TEAM

The Leinster Schools' team to meet the South-East at College Park, Dublin, on Saturday (11.45) is:—J. G. Lett (Mountjoy); T. S. Brodin (St. Columba's), D. S. Metcalf (St. Patrick's); B. U. Roberts (Mountjoy); F. M. Filgas (King's Hospital) (captain), T. Johnson (Kingstown); F. Ryan (Mountjoy), P. Carew (Avoca), R. Row (Mountjoy), I. A. Knighton-Smith (St. Columba's), F. Newell (Avoca).

WOMEN'S INTER-PROVINCIAL

Leinster and Ulster having finished equal in points at the head of the senior interprovincial championship table, it has been decided to have a deciding match in Belfast on April 15. The following have been selected to represent Leinster:—

Miss Bateman (Trinity); Mrs. O'Neill (Muckross), Miss Frith (Pembroke Wanderers); Miss McCourt (Muckross), Miss Whiteside (Pembroke Wanderers), Mrs. Donaldson (Pembroke Wanderers); Miss McCarroll (Pembroke Wanderers), Miss B. White (Muckross), Mrs. Whelan (Pembroke Wanderers), Miss J. White (Muckross) and Mrs. Revills (Muckross).

Senior League—Pembroke Wanderers 2, Dublin University 0.

JUVENILE BOXING

Eighty-seven entries, including the majority of those who figured prominently last year, have been received for the Co. Dublin juvenile boxing championships, which commence to-night at the Stadium and will be continued to-morrow (Friday) and Saturday. The weigh-in will be held this morning from 8.30 to 10 and from 12.30 to 2.0.

WESTPORT CLUB'S TOURNAMENT

With several prominent boxers well-known to Dublin followers of the sport taking part, the Westport Athletic Club's inaugural boxing tournament, held at the Grand Central Hall, Westport, recently, proved very successful. Included in the hill was a contest between Pte. M. McCullagh and Opl. P. Dowdall, finalists in the light-weight division of this season's Army senior championships. Dowdall reversed the previous decison, outpointing McCullagh over six rounds. Following are the results:—

B. Lacey (Castlebar) beat P. Flynn (Ballinrobe) on points; J. O'Callaghan (Westport) k.o. E. O'Toole (Ballinrobe); T. Lacey (Castlebar) beat V. Cronin (Ballinrobe) on points; C. Robertson (Westport) beat B. Giblin (Castlebar on points; S. O'Malley (Westport) k.o. M. Hession (Ballinrobe); P. Cusack (Westport) beat T. Lynott (Ballaghaderreen) on points; Opl. Brinklow (Athlone) beat Pte. S. O'Malley (Renmore) on points; M. Walsh (Westport) beat J. Hogan (Ballinrobe) on points; Pte. Keenan (Athlone) beat T. Giblin (Westport) disq. in second round; Pte. Beirne (Renmore) beat R. J. O'Malley (Westport) on points; Pte. Branigan (Athlone) beat P. McGreal (Westport) on points; Opl. F. Dowdall (Dublin) beat Pte. M. McCullagh (Athlone) on points.

Accused Man Pawned Half-Sovereigns

An allegation that the evidence given against him, particularly by William Wakefield, was a "complete fabrication," was made by Patrick Doolin, Circuit Criminal Court yesterday by Paul Poynton (31), one of the accused men, when the trial of Poynton and Noel William Talbot (34), both of no fixed address, was resumed.

They are charged with breaking and entering the G.S.R. offices at Inchicore (in January, 1943; and with stealing £130 from Maria and Patk. O'Loughlin, Upper Drumcondra road, in December, 1942. They are also charged with conspiring with William Wakefield, Thomas Sharkey, Alexander Bowman, and John Sherlock to break and enter the G.S.R. offices; and with conspiring with Wakefield and Sherlock to steal the money from Upper Drumcondra road.

Paul Poynton, in evidence, denied complicity in the affair. On one occasion Wakefield, who owed him 80/-, asked him to pawn some half-sovereigns, and he did so. Wakefield then paid him the 80/-.

Cross-examined by Mr. F. Sherry, who, with Mr. B. McLoughlin, S.C., prosecuted, Poynton said he thought there was nothing unusual about the fact that Talbot and himself had £5 a day or two after the robbery. Asked what was Talbot's business in Belfast, witness said that it was concerned with smuggling and was doing some work for the police and Air Ministry. Witness admitted that he, too, was doing some smuggling, and was in the A.T.S. as a motor mechanic.

Mr. Sherry—You knew Talbot was a police agent?—He was not actually a police agent, but he was concerned with them.

Continuing he said that the half-sovereigns were pawned in his name, but were not his property. He gave the pawn ticket to Wakefield. He did not know where Wakefield got them.

Mrs. Cecilia Poynton, wife of the accused man, said her husband was with her on the night of January 7th, because it was the last night she received a week's wages from him.

The further hearing was adjourned until this morning.

Second Round of Leinster Rugby Cup

By Our Rugby Football Correspondent.

THE second round of the Leinster Senior Cup, which starts on Saturday at Lansdowne road, will bring out three teams which will be making their first appearance in this season's competition. Wanderers, who meet Lansdowne in the 2.45 fixture, and Clontarf and St. Mary's, who are in opposition in the following match, had byes into the second stage; so interest should be keen in these matches.

Clontarf, runners-up so frequently for the trophy in recent years, are a strong fancy to go the whole way this time. They have had a useful club record, with twelve wins and a draw to set against seven defeats, but St. Mary's give them no ground in this respect, for, with playing two matches less, they won ten, drew two and lost six. Neither club has had a match for almost a month, but I have heard rumours of intensive training on the part of Clontarf. Certainly the forwards should be a formidable lot, for, in addition to their usual weight and strength, they have had the aid of the scrum-maging machine which was invented by their captain and interprovincial second row forward, Hugh Milroy.

It is quite possible that Clontarf will field the best pack in the cup, but, under present conditions, the scoring ability of the three-quarter line will be a matter of even more importance. In former years F. G. Moran has been the mainstay of the attack, but in the representative games he seemed to me to have lost some of his speed and hard running. Maybe the interchange of B. Mullen to out-half and N. C. Mahony to the centre will bring more thrust in mid-field, but it is certain that the St. Mary's defence will not be easily beaten.

In the cup last season St. Mary's turned out a fast and lively team, whose lack of constructive ability in attack was compensated for to some extent by their close marking and hard tackling in defence, as well as their ability to snap up scoring openings in the loose play. The Clontarf backs will not have an easy time of it on Saturday, but, if their forwards come up to expectations, a win for them seems likely.

Although Wanderers scored more points during the club season than any of their Dublin rivals, they have not an especially convincing looking back division, and Lansdowne should have a good chance of going on to the semi-final. It is hard to believe that Lansdowne can play so poorly a second time as they did in the first round against Bective. They have the three-quarters, if the half-backs can get the ball away to them; but the forwards are inclined to lack fire, a quality which will be needed if the solid Wanderers' eight is to be held. Two lively, hard-fought games will probably produce little in the way of scoring.

A "Brutal" Breach of Promise

The President of the High Court, Dublin, yesterday awarded Miss Kathleen Raggett, Clonmellon, Co. Westmeath, £150 damages, with costs, in her breach of promise action against John Quinn, farmer, of the same place. She is 22 and Mr. Quinn is 30. She stated that in August, 1942, Mr. Quinn and she agreed to marry on September 23rd of that year and that he had refused to carry out his undertaking. Mr. Quinn denied the promise, and pleaded rescission by mutual consent.

Miss Raggett's account, as related by her counsel, was that she first met Mr. Quinn when she was visiting her sister, Mrs. Leavy, at Clonmellon early in 1941. In April of that year Mr. Quinn asked her to marry him, and in August, 1942, they agreed to marry on September 23rd. He bought the wedding ring in Dublin, and on the 28th Miss Raggett went home to Kilkenny and there received a number of affectionate letters from Mr. Quinn.

While she was in Kilkenny Mr. Quinn attended dances at Clonmellon with her sister; at one of them he met another girl, and wrote to Miss Raggett telling her that since she had gone away he had found that he did not love her, and could not go ahead with the wedding. Miss Raggett was making her wedding preparations at home when she got that letter.

Meanwhile Mr. Quinn had gone to the parish priest, told him that he was not going to marry Miss Raggett, asked him to arrange for his wedding to the other girl, and was married in her five days after he was to have been married to Miss Raggett.

The President said that this breach could not be considered otherwise than a brutal performance on the part of Mr. Quinn.

Mr. John Hooper (instructed by Mr. Patrick Noonan) appeared for Miss Raggett; and Mr. W. O'B. Fitzgerald, S.C., and Mr. E. T. Sweetman (instructed by Messrs. Patrick A. Mooney and Co.) for Mr. Quinn.

Bonus Awards

The Minister for Industry and Commerce has made a Bonus Order for the Irish Union of Distributive Workers and Clerks, applicable to the employees in the grocery and provision trade employed in Dublin and Dun Laoghaire by Lipton, Limited, and Home and Colonial Stores, Ltd. Adults will receive a bonus at the rate of 8/- per normal working week, and juveniles 4/-. This Order will be retrospective to December 17th last.

Trading Denied in Coupon Case

The trial was continued in the Circuit Criminal Court, before Judge Connolly yesterday, of Max Berber and Joseph Levey, 63 North Lotts, Dublin, who have pleaded guilty to a charge of having received a quantity of piece goods, the property of Messrs. James McMurrough and Sons Middle Abbey street, Dublin. Emin Sale was also found guilty on a further charge of, as a trader, receiving spun rayon, printed crepe, art silk lining, and piece goods, all rationed articles, from Patrick Joseph Smith, not a trader, without surrendering to Smith the appropriate number of coupons. Levey is also charged with having aided, abetted and assisted Berber to obtain the above articles.

Jacob Levey, manager of the Lotts Clothing Company, said that he had been connected with the firm for about five years. Before that he had been an agent for Messrs. Cornes and Co., of Kobe, Japan. The first met Smith early in his association with the Lotts Clothing Co. Witness had always dealt with Smith in the manager of K. H. Kattan's store at North Lotts, and had a very high opinion of Smith until he found out that he was dishonest. Kattan had ceased to supply witness's firm at the end of 1941. He had had no dealings with Smith from that time until August, 1942. On December 17th, 1942, witness bought some goods from Smith and had four further transactions with him at later dates.

Mr. Jo. Taylor, auditor and accountant to Lotts Clothing Co., said that he had examined Berber's cheque stubs and found cheques payable to either Smith or P. J. Smith, prior to December 17th, 1942.

The further hearing was adjourned until this morning.

Had Craze for Firearms

There was a sequel to the fatal shooting accident at the Shelbourne Hotel in the Circuit Criminal Court, when Joseph Walsh (17), Gate Lodge, St. Mary's College, Marino, was charged with possession of a parabellum pistol and four rounds of ammunition, and a .32 revolver with twelve rounds of ammunition, without a firearms licence.

Mr. Frank Connolly (Chief State Solicitor's Office) recalled the incident at the Shelbourne Hotel in January last, when a page boy was accidentally shot dead. The parabellum had been kept by another boy, who was dehonstrating with it at the time of the fatality.

Mr. J. Gleeson (Mr. L. Trant McCarthy's office), entering a plea of guilty for defendant, said that his client had a craze for firearms, but was not engaged in any illegal activities.

District Justice Molony ordered defendant to enter into recognisances, with two sureties of £20 each.

Employers Criticised

At yesterday's sitting of the Wages Advisory Tribunal in Dublin the Irish Transport Workers' Union applied for a Standard Wage Order and the maximum bonus of 11/- per week for farriers employed by master farriers in Dublin and Dun Laoghaire. There was no representative of the Master Farriers' Association present.

Mr. F. J. Buckley, S.C., said that, in the circumstance, the Tribunal was left in the position that they had only the evidence of the applicants' side, and would have to make their recommendation accordingly. It appeared to him, he added Buckley, that employers should appreciate the full terms of the Orders, and their responsibilities towards employees, and that the least they might do was to appear before the Tribunal.

ANTIQUE FURNITURE PRICES

Antique mahogany furniture from Newport House, Co. Mayo, relates to the O'Donel family "of the princely and illustrious house of Tyrconnell," realised good prices when it came under the hammer at the auction rooms of Messrs. Tormey Bros., Ltd., Ormond quay, Dublin, yesterday. Eight ladder-backed chairs sold for £88; a Chippendale table fetched £69, while a carved gilt-wood tray, decorated after Boucher, was knocked down for £32. Seven antique hall chairs, bearing the O'Donel crest, were disposed of for £6 5/- each, an antique mahogany sideboard sold for £37 10/- and two Bull cabinets realised £21.

After bidding had soared to the final bid of £80, the auctioneer decided to withdraw an antique Ormolo chandelier. Of paintings disposed of, a portrait of William of Orange secured £20; one of Lady Catherine O'Donel, £23 10s., of Colonel Hugh O'Donel, £21, and another of an unknown member of the same clan, £44. An antique silver bowl sold for £27 10/-.

Civil Servants Relations With Trading Firms

MR. J. LARKIN (jun.) (Lab.) asked the Minister for Finance, in the Dail yesterday, whether it was impolitic and not in the public interests that senior officers in Government Departments should have personal and pecuniary interests in commercial undertakings, and if he would consider indicating in an official statement that the Government considered it undesirable that civil servants should have such relations with trading concerns.

Mr. S. T. O'KELLY, the Minister, said that it would be impossible to give a categorical reply to the question. Each case must be examined on its merits as it arose. The general position seemed to be adequately safeguarded by the instructions issued in December, 1929, for the guidance of the Civil Service. These instructions stated: "A civil servant who, in the course of his official duties, comes into contact with any matter affecting a business organisation in which he has an interest, should immediately disclose the measure of his interest to the head of his department, so that some other officer may, if the head of the department considers it necessary, be asked to deal with the matter."

Mr. DILLON (Ind.)—Is it not true that in the case of one such high civil servant he readily expressed his willingness to resign his Civil Service position, but he has been repeatedly asked to retain it?

Mr. O'KELLY — There has been only one such case that has been brought to my notice, where a civil servant had an interest in a superior kind of business. If that is the case the deputy has in mind that civil servant has expressed his desire to give up the business or retire from the Civil Service.

Mr. DILLON — And has been asked to remain in the service?

Mr. O'KELLY—Yes.

MILITARY PENSIONS

Asked by Mr. Flanagan whether the Mr. Leydon referred to was the Secretary of his Department, Mr. LEMASS replied: "That is so."

Mr. FRANK AIKEN, replying for the Minister for Defence, told Mr. Oliver Flanagan that the members of the Eleventh Dail in receipt of pensions under the Military Service Pensions Act, 1924, and the gross and nett annual pensions in each case were as follows:—P. J. Giles—Gross annual pension £80; nett annual pension £80; T. Carter—Gross £45 7s. 1d., nett £45 7s. 1d.; J. Ryan—Gross £176 13s. 4d., nett £176 13s. 4d.; Lieutenant-General Sean McEoin—Gross £180, nett £171; Fionan Lynch—Gross £303 5s. 8d., nett £303 5s. 8d.; T. F. O'Higgins—Gross £150, nett nil.

The total sum paid to members of the Houses of the Oireachtas in respect of pensions awarded under the Military Service Pensions Act in the year ended March 31, 1943, was £1,126 11s. 1d.

Mr. LEMASS told Mr. Oliver Flanagan that the present directors of Aer Lingus, Teo, were:—Messrs. John Leydon, John P. O'Brien, J. O'Leary and T. J. Flynn. All were of Irish nationality, and there was at present a vacancy for a fifth director. The directors received no remuneration for their services on the Board of Aer Lingus, Teo, but the same individuals constituted the Board of Directors of Aer Rianta, Teo, and in that capacity received remuneration at the rate of £300 per annum. At present Mr. Leydon acted as chairman.

Guest Houses Must Be Registered

Applications for the registration of guest-houses with the Tourist Board have been coming in at a most unsatisfactory rate. After next Saturday hotels and guest-houses which have not applied for registration with the Tourist Board will be forbidden to function, and their signs must disappear. Hotel applications, on the other hand, have come in satisfactorily, and 1,500 are expected to be with the Board at zero-hour.

Santry Court Fire Damage Claim

The case for the Minister for Defence in the £35,000 claim against him arising out of the destruction of Santry Court, Co. Dublin, by fire, while the military were in occupation of it, on October 24th, 1941, was resumed before Mr. Justice Haugh in the High Court, Dublin, yesterday, and the further hearing was adjourned until to-day.

The action, which is brought by the vendors of Santry Court and the Joint Committee of Management of Grangegorman Mental Hospital, purchasers, was for damages for alleged breach of a letting agreement whereby the Minister agreed to indemnify the vendors for any damage to the premises while they were in military occupation.

The Minister pleaded that, the destruction having been caused by accidental fire, he was under no obligation, under the said letting agreement into which he had entered, to indemnify the vendors.

Mr. R. McGonigal, S.C., for the Minister, described the agreement as merely a preliminary agreement that the Department of Defence should be responsible for the premises. The principle that a tenant was not liable for accidental fire went back to the Statute of Gloucester, he submitted that what the agreement intended was to impose a liability on the Minister for the acts of the military in occupation, and that it could not be extended to cover damage arising from accidental causes.

Presidential Possibilities

As the date of the party conventions approaches, public interest in the United States is being concentrated more and more upon the Presidential election. On this occasion both conventions will be held in the city of Chicago, and Democrats and Republicans alike already are mobilising their forces for a contest which is likely to be one of the most interesting and keenly fought in the history of the United States. It is taken for granted that President Roosevelt, who already has had three terms of office, will present himself, and will be accepted by the Democratic Party as its standard-bearer for yet another term. Already he has established a record in this respect, being the only man who ever has been President of the United States for more than eight years. For this reason alone there are many Democrats who are opposed to his standing for a fourth term on the general ground that they object to anything even remotely resembling the establishment of a dynasty at the White House. Large numbers of loyal Democrats find themselves, therefore, in two minds. On principle, they object to the choice of President Roosevelt for a fourth term; but they realise that Abraham Lincoln gave good advice when he counselled against the swopping of horses in mid-stream. Public opinion in the United States—and at election times public opinion counts for a great deal on the far side of the Atlantic—may not be quite so immediately or intensely interested in the war in Europe as is its counterpart in the old world. On the other hand, we in Europe must remember that, in the mind of the average American citizen, the war against Japan, which, to Europeans, may seem almost to be a "side-show," looms exceedingly large. This idea, therefore, either of choosing some other Democratic candidate in preference to Mr. Roosevelt, or of electing a Republican in his stead, will be repugnant to the vast majority of Democratic voters. Although even his staunchest friends must admit that the President, in his capacity as head of the Government, has become widely unpopular, particularly during the last twelve months or so, and that his Secretary of State, Mr. Cordell Hull, has become even more unpopular, it is hard to believe that Democratic opinion will countenance any suggestion of a change. There will be many grumblers. In all likelihood a definitely hostile Congress will be elected; but, unless something wholly unexpected should occur in the meantime, it seems to be almost certain that Franklin D. Roosevelt will carry the Democratic colours next November to the polls.

Writing in an American newspaper recently, some political commentator declared that any Republican candidate who could read and write would be certain of victory over President Roosevelt. To what extent this rather sweeping assertion is even remotely true, remains, of course, to be seen. In the normal course of events, a Republican, naturally, would stand an excellent chance, but the present course of events is anything but normal. Furthermore, Mr. Roosevelt's Administration seems to be reasonably confident of a Democratic victory; otherwise it hardly would have risked an affront to Roman Catholic opinion (there are 30,000,000 Catholics in the United States) by the bombardment of Monte Cassino, to say nothing to the despatch of the recent Note to Eire, which cannot but have had its effect on the highly organised and politically vital Irish vote. Any attempt to forecast the result of the voting, as between Democrat and Republican, is almost impossible in view of the very large number of voters who will be absent from the United States in one or other of the armed services. The actual figure is unknown, but it certainly will amount to several millions. Acute observers take the view that the inability of the soldiers, sailors and airmen to vote will give an advantage to the opponents of the Administration. Consequently the Republicans, at the moment, seem to be full of confidence, and are taking very seriously the problem of their choice of candidate. Such "primaries" as already have taken place afford no real clue to the identity of the man who will be chosen at Chicago. Mr. Wendell Willkie certainly will not be the choice of the party machine; but, for all that, he is making a determined onslaught on Republican opinion throughout the Union, and there are many who believe that, in the long run, he will secure nomination. Two other potential nominees are Governor Dewey, of New York, and Governor Bricker, of Ohio. The former has made a great name for himself all over the United States as a result of the way in which he has dealt with political corruption and "graft" of all kinds in the State of New York; but apparently he has committed himself to "ride out" the full term of his Governorship, which will not come to an end until 1946. Whether or not, if he should receive overwhelming support at the party convention, he will abide by this somewhat rash promise is a moot point. Governor Bricker also is a strong candidate who carries with him the remarkable tradition of Ohio men in respect of the White House. He is not so spectacular as either Mr. Willkie or Governor Dewey; but, for that very reason, he will be likely to command strong support among the more solid mass of Republican opinion. There are others who may appear before or during the convention, but, so far as can be seen at present, the Republican choice will lie between the three whom we have mentioned. All three are strongly in favour of the maximum war effort in the United States. Indeed, they are striving with one another in their anxiety to establish this fact.

Our Belts

"We must draw in our belts." That is an old but an expressive phrase; and anybody who ever has felt real hunger, and has known what it is to draw in the belt; in fact, so that the constriction deadens the gnawing pain beneath, can feel the force of it. Happily, we in Ireland have not been brought to that stage yet; but it is clear that privation still stands close by us, and that we will not be free of its threat until the war is long past. In the years immediately following the conclusion of hostilities, we cannot expect any relief from abroad. Many other nations, in Europe and throughout the world, have suffered grievously from famine; their needs must be met, their starving people must be fed, before we can call upon the surplus food supplies of the victor nations. If we are short of food, and cry out for assistance amid the general distress, the distributors will be entitled to make one reply: "You had your chance." We in Ireland have had our chance. We have had peace, when the rest of the world was at war. If we have failed to make the best use of it, we have nobody but ourselves to blame. If we have failed to cultivate our land, while we were at liberty to do so, then the hunger of our people will be upon our own heads. In this coming year, it must be expected that the difficulties of obtaining food from abroad will increase. Last year, we grew seven months' supply of wheat, and imported the balance; but this year we may not be able to import a single grain. Unless the supply of wheat is almost doubled, bread will be scarce; a system of rationing will have to be imposed; and any such system will bear unduly hardly upon the poor, to whom bread is by far the most important item of diet. Once again, then, the people of Ireland and their leaders must call upon the farming community to provide more wheat. This is no far-fetched experiment; it is a demand based upon stern necessity.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

INTER-IRISH PROPAGANDA

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES

SIR,—Mr. Frank Aiken, Eire's Minister for the Co-ordination of Defensive Measures, expresses concern about what he calls "unfair and untruthful propaganda against Eire," and urges the English and American news agencies to put an end to it.

This is a sentiment which, I think, should apply on all sides, and, if there is any real sincerity behind it, which I very much doubt, then I would strongly suggest that it is the duty of Mr. Aiken, or some other responsible Eire spokesman to take in hand, to advocate that an end be made once and for all to the continued stream of malicious, untrue and unprincipled Eire propaganda directed against Northern Ireland, its Government and its people, who only want to mind their own business, climaxed by that triumph of mendacity, the book called "Orange Terror," recently passed by the Eire Government Censor—so very, very strict in other respects—for distribution throughout Ireland, and any other part of the United Kingdom that might be taken in by it.

This sort of propaganda, directed against Northern Ireland, has been going on for years without any apparent protest from any responsible Eire Government spokesman, who are now so concerned, with reflections, mild in comparison, directed against their own country.

In view of what we have experienced and are experiencing, Mr. Aiken's pious wish sounds somewhat naive and laughable to us in Northern Ireland.—Yours, etc.,

W. S. MOODY.

"THE SONG OF BERNADETTE"

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES

SIR,—Your critic pays just tribute to the pious charm of the portrayal of Bernadette in this remarkable film, but I fancy his opening and closing remarks—due, perhaps, to unavoidable haste—tend somewhat to overstress the film's relatively trifling defects. After all, may we not interpret such flaws in this light—that human behaviour in the face of an uncomprehended mystical experience is apt to be incongruous. Was not this often so in the case of the chosen Apostles of Christ Himself? A hardened old play and filmgoer, I confess I went to see the picture without enthusiasm, but was so captivated that the 2½ hours' run seemed to pass like a mere sixty minutes, and at the close the whole seemed to have been a most artistic pictorial composition, developed throughout with a fine dramatic economy. As regards the Apparition of Our Lady, the contemporaries of Bernadette had only her poor weak words to go upon, and, just as Turner could not paint the sun, neither can any effect of the camera represent any aspect of the Light Ineffable.—Yours, etc.,

MARIONETTE GROUP STAGE SHOW

With eighteen puppets, exclusive of the deadly sins, and an equal number of human beings, the Dublin Marionette Group staged their most elaborate production to date at the Engineers' Hall last night, when they showed "The Tragical History of Dr. Faustus," by Christopher Marlowe. The movement of the puppets is still a little stilted, but no possible complaint could be made about the quality of the speakers' voices. With very few exceptions, indeed, all these young people have had no practical stage experience; yet they can speak a line with all the assurance of professional actors.
